Pandora Nash-Karner, President of Pandora & Company, is a marketing specialist and graphic designer with 23 years of experience working with a variety of national and local clients.

In her professional life, Pandora has pursued a passion for creative marketing, for design, and for photography. She has designed and produced complete corporate identity packages, including the creation of logos and promotional materials as well as in-house employee manuals and newsletters. She has created and implemented marketing strategies for both start-up companies and established corporations. Her photographs have appeared on the covers of national magazines, and she has received national and international honors and awards for her graphic design.

Pandora has served as an elected official for the Los Osos (California) Community Services District, and has chaired the Los Osos Wastewater and Park Committees. She also has served on the San Luis Obispo County Parks Commission since 1990, and has chaired that commission for the last three years. She was instrumental in the development of the San Luis Obispo County Trails Plan, and is a five-year member, and the former Chair, of the Morros Advisory Committee—a group charged with creating a specific plan for the preservation and protection of the Morros. She has been selected as Woman of the Year, Kiwanian of the Year, and Citizen of the Year, and in 1999 received the Mary Rhode Award from the League of Women Voters.

She was the prime mover behind getting land donated to Los Osos for a community swimming pool, and in the planning and planting of the Walter Capps Memorial Forest at El Chorro Regional Park. Her digital artwork was recently featured in a one-person art show in Los Osos. In her “spare time,” Pandora grows prize-winning roses, races a small sailboat, and sails
